Editorial of the DAY

THIS KIND OF THING SHOULD NOT HAPPEN IN CANADA

Many people in this part of the country seem to be in disagreement with the "closure" policy prerogative handed method of forcing through the natural gas pipeline bill by a show of strength which left opposition forces powerless to delay its passage. But, if they are in disagreement with this policy prerogative adopted by the government in terminating debate and railroading through the bill before the public had a chance to learn all the facts, they are also seriously concerned with the behaviour of men who are sent to Ottawa to act as parliamentarians. The fact that several members of reigning and opposition forces at times got out of hand and were not effectively controlled, set, a bad example, left a bad impression and causes people to wonder why stern action wasn't taken in insisting on dignified parliamentary procedure being adhered to. True, Prime Minister St. Laurent did conduct himself in a way becoming a parliamentarian, but as a leader he should have insisted that those of his followers behaved themselves and applied discipline, if necessary, in enforcing orderly behaviour in parliament.

There have been occasions in the past when delegations from the ranks of various groups of Canadians, from school children up, have visited Ottawa to see how parliament is conducted. It is fortunate they were spared the spectacle which the pipeline battle has provided. Conduct such as has been exhibited in Ottawa during the past few days is tinged with dictatorship and rabble-rousing.

It is, of course, becoming increasingly apparent that the government is numerically too strong for the good of the country. Any opposition, no matter how sincere and well-intentioned, has little hope of debating major issues satisfactorily if such a powerful camp decides it is not in their party's best interests. A more powerful opposition would have a deterring effect on the administration and on itself. Where the competition is keen on both sides and a little loss of face can be disastrous politically, there are we apt to find conduct which is circumspet.

In the meantime parliamentarianism Ottawa has given Canada a very black-eye to which all parties are ashamed. We cannot recall of any member having roundly conducted the behaviour of those boisterously involved in the pipeline debate.

"Soup, Soap and Salvation"

Theme of Rev. W.A. Hummisett

Gambury (PNS) - The Sunday School anniversary services were held at St. Paul's Church.

The morning service was conducted by Rev. S. J. MacPherson, Henry Copp who expressed appreciation to all S.S. pupils, and to the Junior and Intermediate choir with Miss Ann Shire at the organ and accompanied by Miss Jean Shire at the piano. The Junior choir presented the song "The Lord is my Shepherd" and the senior one with Miss Shire Peterson and Miss Billie Watt led the devotional.

Mr. Copp outlined by Mrs. Maxwell Thompson and Miss Jean Shire. The hymn presented the following hymns with awards of merit. Bibles were presented to Master John Walker, Miss Peter Kirk and Roger Douglas. Bibles Prizes to Miss Anne Tamlin, Eleanor Anderson and Master Jim Douglas. Bible Stories to Misses Jean Kirk, Susan Terrell, Grace Walker, Ruth Siggart, Jean Shire and Peter Crane and Master Warren Hayes. Motions to Masters Carl Weaver, James Bagshaw, Kenneth Siggart, Douglas Copp, Bobbie Thompson and Bruce Anderson. The original Miss Ann Shire was also recommended.

The guest speaker, Rev. W.A. Hummisett gave a very interesting talk on the children on the life line who were failing and by the grace of God his message lunged across the multitude and to spare. The Pastor, Rev. J. L. MacPherson, led the service to the pastoral charges worshipping of the service and members of Gambury church and friends.

Rev. Mr. Hummisett spoke during the service on his work at the Fred Victor Mission in Toronto which is founded on three words, Soup, Soap and Salvation and the relationship of Missions and the church. The Fred Victor Mission was started by Mrs. Sheffield who held S.S. in one room and the first Sunday there was a good attendance, hence Fred Victor Mission's corner stone was laid. Rev. Mr. Hummisett told of some of his work and experiences and the congregation was held in very great reverence and every word of the sermon was appreciated.

The church choir contributed one lovely anthem and a duet by Misses Shirley and Beverly Moore which is always appreciated. Mrs. Ray Weldon, presided at the organ with Miss Ann Shire at the piano.

Prepare Layette At Auxiliary Meet

Little Britain (PNS) - The May meeting of the Little Britain Evening Auxiliary was held in the basement of the United Church.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. MacPherson, Mrs. Henry Mark acted as secretary. The treasurer's report and other reports were given.

Financial problems were discussed concerning the purchase of diapers for the layette. It was also decided that the date of the next meeting must be changed as it falls on a Civic holiday.

The worship service was then presented. Mrs. Harold Mason gave a poem "Praise Ye the Lord". This was followed by prayer by Mrs. Gordon Thompson. Scripture readings were read by Mrs. Harold Mason, Mrs. Ralph Colwell and Mrs. Vera Northerton. Mrs. Harold Mason gave an article followed by prayer by Mrs. Gordon Thompson.

Mrs. Gordon Thompson gave a story about Marjorie Henshaw, Hamilton who spent her life bringing love closer to God. The worship service was closed by Prayer by Mrs. Harold Mason.

During the beginning of the meeting a quilt, quilted by the top of which was donated by Mrs. Grace Brown, was inserted in quilting frames by Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Edna Webster. Their part of the members quilted while the remainder of the ladies prepared for the layette. A lovely lunch was served by the group, after which quilting was resumed by those present.

How Can I?

By Anne Anderson

Q. How can I restore gifts from the past to my present? Answer: A. Buy them up, a small space moment with all of turbulence.

Q. How can I improve myself? Answer: A. Get to the point of search not disapproval of your self and disapproval in the usual manner - holding. Articles started with this will be stiffer.

Marylynne, with a few well chosen words, thanked her friends and hostess.

Afterwards, a delightful lunch was served by Mrs. Blain, Mrs. Finney, Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Brown, assisted by Misses Elvira Hill, Ann Williams and Crystal James.

A delightful program was put on by the local ladies from the six churches in the Bethany charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Parks and sons of Oshawa were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Row and attended a service in the Reesor church.

Money Daynes' Effort Gives Chris' Top Spot,
Win 11-3 Over Visking

 Money Daynes came up with a masterful three-run, four-hit effort for Chris' Post and Chips against Visking last night to take over first place in the Lindsay Men's Softball League winning 11-3.

 Daynes bunched through nine men, and then gave up a single in the fifth, a home, two singles and two walks with one out, to have three runs in the sixth. The setback was three runs, and settled down with three men and hit innings to finish the game. Although Money walked seven, and scored out three more Visking runners on nine were left stranded.

 In the fourth inning, two walks and a fielder's choice put runners on first and second with one out, and the 11-year-old hunter got out the rally with two strike-outs.

 Chris' Post and Chips counted nine singles, six off Buzz Hodgson in five innings and three off Alex Kingborough in six.

 Bill Williams' triple and two singles led the attack backed by McGill with a double and single. Bob Gordon, Jack Williams, Glen Rhodes and Bill Spratt each craved a single.

 Visking worked a snappy double play with the bases loaded in the first, to allow but one run to the plate after an infield error, a hit batter and two walks.

 Hodgson, who tossed to Pearson at the plate and Danny tried to third ahead of Jack Williams.

 Four hits and two errors added
the runs for the Chips.

 Bob Gordon got the first hit of the game to start the third, and Spratt drew a walk. Bill Williams tripped home the pair with a line drive over first. An infield error left Jack Williams on and Rose McGill enabled to left. Hodgson retired Rhodes on strike. Bill Spratt dropped a single off C. Reynolds, running slab in short center to plate McGill.

 Two errors, two walks and Bill Williams single added three in the fifth and a single and three walks of Kingborough netted but two runs in the sixth. C. Reynolds robbed Bernie Brown of a base-loaded extra base hit in the eighth and the runners had to reverse direction.

 In the seventh, Bill Parker extended Bill Spratt's drive over third with one and one out and Kingbor-ough got the side out without a run in the seventh, and three pop-ups looked out of the eighth.

 Three hits and three walks and Chips led 13 runners on base.

 Visking first threat came in the fourth inning when two walks and a force out put runners on second and third with one out. Daynes however finished off the threat with two consecutive called strikes.

 Danny Pearson claimed Visking's first hit when he pounced a single to short left with one on and one out. Bill Parker sacrificed the runners to second and third but Dunes got Reynolds to bounce to first.

 Visking's three-run seventh could have been more expensive for the Chips but a double play around the horn ended the pressure.

 Great Green bounced a drive over third for a home to the eighth.
Rally Bower, batted off three hits, enabled to centre and scored when the bases got through Rhodes.
Hodgson dropped a single over first. Cliff Abernethy bounced to first.

Kinmount Students Guests Of Agricultural College

Kinmount (PNS)—The students of Kinmount Continuation School spent an enjoyable and instructive session at Guelph Agricultural College.

Interesting highlights of the conducted tour were the Curatorial building, Horse Barn, Arena Gymnasium, Cattle Barn, Museum, Soil Erosion Project, 1900 House and for the girls "Mechanics" Institute. Prospective students were aware of our year courses for boys or girls with Grade 10 entrance standing. This leads to a certificate and for boys it is designed to help them for the return to the farm. For the girls it is training in home management.

Then there is the four-year course requiring nine Grade 12 subjects specified and leading to a degree. The students of the tour were the interest and attention of the students by their own knowledge and experience in the work.

Mr. DeBure made the trip especially instructive and lightened his planning of the route both ways to cover as varied a course as possible. Some of those included the R. P. Taylor Farm, McLaughlin Farm, Dale Farm, and the Guelph Laboratory.

Evelyn Bermeych

LINDSAY, ONTARIO

IT HAS BEEN A LONG TIME . . .

It has been a long time in Lindsay that a band which could turn in a performance to equal that of the Kismet Boys' and Girls Band on parade last night. Smokey turned out in brand new uniforms and well-dressed. The band presented a pleasing variety of marching tunes along Kent Street, playing strictly in time. Congratulations are very much in order for all who have worked so hard to make possible this splendid assembly of youthful bandmen.

Many people can remember when almost every village in the area had a pretty good band but good bands in the town were doomed to get along without a band. Then along came the boys' band movement which we see in its advanced stage today. The target of some criticism and occasionally rebuffed, the people who supported it throughout now see what a worthy objective, combined with faith and tenacity can achieve. It also provides further evidence that individual initiative is the key to success in all things.

On this day when many are lobbying for governmental handouts rather than battle the obstacles which always strew the pathways of the ambitious, the boys' band of the Lindsay Boys' and Girls Band will be successful in all its undertakings and that the people of Lindsay will avail themselves of every opportunity to hear the band and encourage its personnel.

THOSE SONGS

It doesn't matter what date it is or which flowers are in bloom or whether the garden is planted, when you hear a house when spilling his heart in midmorning or a wood thrush singing that lovely, clear, sweet vesper at dusk you know the world is all right. Things are in order. Nothing of deep natural consequence can be wholly wrong.

You listen, and you look, and something deep inside responds. You want to lie on the grass or sit on a rock on the hillside and feel the same eternal forces that are vibrating from those avian throats. You hear the robins early and at noon and in the evening. You hear the orioles, with their varied song. Dark, and you hear the whippoorwill, some of them close to you can even hear the faint "huh" before the first note of the call. Then a moon just a few days past the full rises in the east. If you live on the water, a stream or a lake, late afternoon and evening are the times for the swallows to be putting on their aerial circus. And, what other birds seem to have such a sense of play? They are busy chirping a meal, feeding on the insects that rise from the banks or the surface of the water, but they play tag, follow the leader, or some game, and seem to get childish enjoyment.

Even the crows and the jays are caught up in the season, less raucous, more graceful, more in tune with the days. Their complaints are over. And so are ours, for a few warm days at least. When the world can sing like this, the heart can't hold back. It's good to be alive and sentient. —New York Times. Ed. Note

Several residents in the Lindsay area have commented on the exceptionally large number of birds which have been seen in the district this spring which is rare for the region. Included in the list of newcomers are some of particularly beautiful plumage and some of these birds seem to be unusually friendly.

LOSS FROM CARELESS SMOKING

Smokers, men and women, should take note of the fact that 1,350 lives in Toronto last year were caused by careless smoking. This was by far the greatest cause of fire. In one instance, a cigarette butt, carelessly tossed aside, commenced a fire which caused the death of three persons.

Fire Chief Leipzig's annual report for 1955 shows that, after careless smoking, the next main causes of fire were defective electrical wiring and defective wiring from children with matches, gas and defective electric wiring. Children with matches accounted for 197 fires; defective wiring for 182.

Deaths by fire amounted to nearly $3,000,000. And three lives.

It is an appalling record, and careless smoking was mainly responsible. The menace of careless smoking will be greater in the next few months when, with finer weather, woods and forests are dry and easily kindled.

A little thought, a little care, will save lives and great damage. —The Telegram

HIS LIFE BEGAN AT FORTY

A fortnight ago Dr. Judah David Eisenstein died in New York at the age of 101. He was a patriarch of the Jewish community of America and of And his years were full of his work. He was a remarkable example of a noted Jewish trait for both business and scholarship, and in him as in many others, his deepest devotion was to the service of the mind.

Dr. Eisenstein was born in Poland in 1854. He studied Hebrew with his grandfather, a learned man, but his formal education stopped before he was seven years old. He emigrated to New York in 1872 and became a businessman, making a comfortable fortune, in terms of that era, as a manufacturer of shirts. At night he studied and wrote.

At the age of forty he retired from his business to devote himself to scholarship and publication. It was then that the career for which he had prepared himself at night began to bear fruit. The life which brought him satisfaction and recognition. In the next thirty years he edited and translated and wrote some seventy volumes. He was the publisher as well as editor of Onat Viseval, a Hebrew newspaper, and he translated the Bible throughout the world. He received many honours during his long life and travelled extensively. Dr. Judah David Eisenstein was revered not because he was old but because he was a scholar and humanist. —Peterborough Examiner.

And Other Opinions

FOLLOW THE SWALLOWS

An English seaside town has gone old-fashioned—in forecasting the weather. Too often appointed, official forecasts of rain have kept holidaymakers away from Cleethorpe on a fine day. The town's weather forecasters, which include weatherbirds, have been brought into their own again.

With the town's complaint, the world's vagaries of weather are a constant. The weather is a constant of Ontario's summer weather are hardly in the same category as those affecting British coastal resorts, which constitute the test question to the most modern meteorological instruments.

So in a bid to secure a more refined weather service, the intuition of a seasoned seafarer, watchman, Mr. Harry Hogg, will be employed. Mr. Hogg, who is probably he will begin by sniffing the ozone to see what's in the wind, heading at a glance the cloud coloring and the dampness or dryness of the loose seaweed on the beach.

The Lindy Hogg will be the first of his own words. "When the swallows fly low to catch the gnats it means a heavy atmosphere and the rain is on the way. When the swallows fly high for the gnats, then the sun will shine all day. And his forecasts will be sent to all rail and bus stations within 75 miles of Cleethorpe, in the hope that prospective trippers will put more faith in his judgement than in the official meteorological office with its charts and compilation of atmospheric formations, air pressures, velocities and precipitations.

But it is doubtful if the idea will spread along the English coast. For when the sky goes contrary it would be easier to blast the official weather clerk than to strike at the municipal bureau, which would only deluge poor old Harry, who might stand on the cliff edge and thunder at the birds.

Besides, we suspect that some of the reports have kept ominously quiet about those occasions that the meteorological office has been in error of opinion, sending thousands of holidaymakers to the seaside when it rained all day. —Hamilton Spectator.

TAX ALPHABET

Canadians complain, sometimes with justice, about the number and variety of taxes they are called on to pay.

Last month it was income tax. On May 25, in Brayford, it was municipal tax. Then there will be the bicycle tax, the dog tax, etc. The tax levied on motor cars has been collected since 1911. There are taxes on guns and taxes for using them. Most invidious of all are the "hidden" taxes, like the sales tax, the tax on the gas into the making of a loaf of bread, or almost anything else one cares to mention. But perhaps we are not as hard done by as taxpayers in some other countries. A correspondent of ours, Mr. A. L. Bucholtz, of Simsbury, Ontario, writes that he has received a copy of the official publication of the winners of Salzburg, Austria, in which appears an "Alphabet" of the taxes now imposed in that country.

It runs all the way from Aufzuchtsteuer (tax paid to over-see-counsellors) to Zuerdwarensteuer (tax on inflammable commodities). Without giving the German names, we can select a few for their translation into English terms. They embrace taxes for or on rehabilitation, forwarding and commuting, club, beverages, business, land acquisition, land dogs, proceeds of mortgages, commerce, hunting, coffee, capital profit, church, corporal, mechanical vehicle, credit profit, light utility, military, mineral, musical, of Berlin, race, betting and lottery, salt, dispensing of beverages, sparkling wine, tablecloths, playing cards, sweep products, tobacco, tea, exchange, amusement, property, security, bills of exchange, bonds, sugar. Looking over that list, even though some of the names are unfamiliar, the tax payment is not. If the Government of Austria has thought up some things that haven't yet occurred to the Government of Canada, we're sorry we brought the matter up. —Brantford Expositor.

WHAT IS SO RARE AS THE FIRST DAY OF SPRING

As June Month of brides and bloom, or fragrance and fealty of roses and radiance of love and enchantment. June arrived yesterday with the lowest temperature in Peterborough's recorded weather history, and perhaps on May 27 morning by the sharpest electrical storm in living memory and a deluge which ripped soil from its bed. What is so rare as a day in June? Then if ever come perfect days. What our managerial friends would call the "operative" words in that quotation are if ever.

Thursday's warmth (and ensuing mosquitoes) led us in mind to quote as a first of June James HOGG's poem about the blackbird singing the latest, the hawthorn blooming the sweetest, of even the anonymous old lyric that "Some in women in London, cuckoo. But yesterday's raw coldness and drab skies, and today's far from brightly temperature called to mind Shakespeare's song: "When icicles hang by the wall."

Anyone who foretells Canadian weather, be poet or professional meteorological prophet, is either a newcomer or a fool. Those among us who have long experience of our climate never call June a summer month. The Canadian summer is those two months preceding late August; in other words, July and August. —Peterborough Examiner.

CHLOROPHORMINE: A MANY-PURPOSE DRUG

Every citizen in a while a new particular drug is developed to fight one particular illness. While it is found to be useful in many other conditions as well. One such drug is chlorophormine. It was originally in this country for the removal of nausea and vomiting from men at sea, as well as for certain respiratory ailments. It is now used in such conditions as the control of the intractable pain of cancer, treatment of persistent hiccup, and alcoholism. In addition it seems to be of value in the case of surgical patients before and after operation and in many other medical states.

How does this drug act? Dr. Leonard Asher, Beverly Hills, Calif., states that it seems to have a very general function and that is to modify the effect of unpleasant or unwelcome physical or emotional reactions. It is not a sedative, but it does help the patient to face situations better. It seems to improve his patient's awareness of emotional events.

Now he has been tried in a series of patients with a variety of gastrointestinal (stomach and bowel) disturbances who have failed to respond to other methods of treatment. They start ranged from 18 to 45 years and their illnesses included chronic ulcer, stomach ulcers, chronic ulcerative colitis, intestinal colitis with associated inflammatory disease of the pancreas, pancreas with nausea and vomiting. The patients who responded well to chlorophormine became aware of the importance of the well-being within 24 hours after the drug was begun. Some complications of treatment for the first two or three days, but those effects were of value in a few days.

It was found in 66 per cent of the patients that a remarkable response to a drug. Dr. Asher sums up by saying that chlorophormine seems to be of value in the treatment of certain gastrointestinal disturbances, when used in conjunction with other forms of treatment such as antacid, diet, and other measures. It is particularly useful in patients with digestive disease in which the mind and emotion play a major role especially where there is associated anxiety or irritability on the part of the patient, as well as being unable to take the discomfort of the illness.

It should be noted that the use of chlorophormine, in most instances, does not lead to any of the serious effects of the illness and does not produce the illness in the first place.

Dr. Asher says that the use of chlorophormine, in most instances, does not lead to any of the serious effects of the illness and does not produce the illness in the first place.

Rev. R.P. Kosterke chaired the program of entertainment provided by members of each congregation. The program consisted of numbers by Mr. Henry Bellamy, Chorus and dance, and a recitation by Miss Helen Chapman and Annie Pals, accompanied on piano by Miss Jeanette Coulter. A feature of the program was a novelty numbers with her own group accompaniment: Miss Jack Payne, a recitation "Pursue Brown." A unique feature was a piano and dance by Miss Helen Chapman and Miss Grace Melaine was enjoyed.

On Sunday, for the third time, the church was nearly full when Mr. Love's last sermon here was given to the Love family well in their new home. The sad aspect of the gathering spoke of the respect with which they are held and report of their departure.

The Victorion congregation supplied special music for the occasion.

To Make Poor Soil Good Spade in What It Lacks

Spading is essential to good soil conditioning.

Plants can be grown without soil, but nature sees it so that plants roots, and above food and water which the roots receive. Men have never found a better way to make gardens, than by using soil.

There are two kinds of soil, and never. Unless air can penetrate the soil, the plants cannot flourish. This demands that lawns and gardens have good drainage, so water which is not held in storage for soil particles with escape and allow air to enter.

If your soil is stiff, hard to tread and cultivate, soil to allow water to drain through it, even if you have to make it so. If you are to make it more porous, use a spade to break up the soil, and spread that what is needed in a few inches of thick dirt.

Even if your soil is clay, even if it is the foundation of a new home, that is the wrong solution. Forget the color of the soil and concentrate on its porosity, a quality without which any soil black, yellow, or red, will give trouble.

At the same extreme are soils in heavy areas, or almost pure sand. These are the soils of the plover, holding no moisture, no plant food, but letting everything wash away.

Both types of soil need the same treatment which is the addition of decayed vegetable or animal material, such as sewage sludge, manure or peat from old bog, well decayed manure, commercial peat moss, and mould of all kinds.

It is seldom advisable to mix sand and clay, but if you do, both are excellent to have in soil, not together, but mixed in an extremely hard composition.

Woodville (P.M.) - The African monthly meeting of the pantomime W.M.S. of Woodville United Church, was held in the church schoolroom.

Korea. She asked the members to look over the quilt, afghan, knitting and other articles brought in by the members in the pantomime and to make their number and variety there was a good collection.

Mrs. J. Owen, received and exchanged reading books from the Book Shelf and the President took the count of the number of books read during the past month. Mention was made of the death of a valued member of long standing, Miss Jeanne Campbell, and altar service was paid.

The offering was prepared and dedicated and then the meeting was turned over to Mrs. W. Newman and her committee. The topic was in the form of a pantomime - "African Panorama" sung from the play "Glorious Night" with Mrs.

SHORT STORY

Third
Richest Girl
By Richard H. Wilkinson

It had happened back in Westchester or most anywhere in the world except here on the edge of a high mesa at the rim of Death Valley it would have made the front pages of every newspaper in the country. The reading public would have been delighted.

This was explainable, for Joan Lawrence was the third richest girl in the United States, and what ever happened to her was news. If the reporters had been on hand that day she had her face slapped, the telephone wires would have burned, and if they had known that the man who slapped her was a coward, editorial offices would have been torn to shambles.

Joan Roberts and Lanky Andrews, who was the cowboy, had ridden away from the wagon wheel ranch that afternoon with the idea of watching the sunset from the rim of Bowling Green Mesa.

This was not the first time they had ridden off alone together. But Joan thought Lanky's attitude of defiance was a pose, but later she decided he was acting very natural. The discovery delighted her.

Casualty she had observed Lanky Andrews without appearing to do so. She registered the fact that he was a good deal more handsome than she needed of first hand. Nothing about his manner or what he was wearing.

"Casualty, too, she made inquiries about him and learned, to her astonishment, that he owned a Harvard diploma and a small estate in the south of France. Her frequent trips into the desert, and to speak a word of knowledge she had acquired in the U.S. to now her general outburst of anger.

One she hated people who posed. Lanky was not without his own ideas, it gradually changed all his. SO Joan prolonged her visit and demanded Lanky's services more and more. She tried to be nice to him, tried to give the impression that she appreciated what he was doing for her.

But Lanky remained the same. He was a good deal vagrant. He was dependable, kind, thoughtful, courteous, but never personal.

That is he was never personal until the evening they stood on the rim of Bowling Green Mesa and watched the sun ease down into the desert. Without turning her head Joan said, "It's lovely!"

And Lanky Andrews, unexpectedly and without warning, turned to her and said, "That sunset's a washout compared to you. And he kissed her as effectively as Joan had ever been kissed.

NOW LANKY was asking her the more Joan knew and understood. She acted on impulse. She slapped his face. "Why you—" he began—and slapped her face, a resounding crack.

Joan stared at him, mouth open, cheeks white. "How dare you!"

"By the same right you dare to slap me," Lanky said easily. "You—you—apparently, Mr. Andrews, you don't know who I am."

"You're the third richest girl in the United States!"

"So what? I'm the best deal vagrant anywhere around. I'm just as human as you. Just because you've got more dough than I doesn't give you any more rights or make me any less feeling."

"Why, you—"

"Well, what? Can't you think of anything to say? Of course you can't. Time you learned a few things."

That time Joan didn't say anything. She merely gazed at him. She was conscious of only one thought, one feeling, one fear. He might not kiss her like that.

But he did, and the newspapers had to be satisfied with the result. They were never told about the fascinating episode, but the story of subsequent events was plenty to make lively big black headlines.

Professing Against Snakes
Both snakes and loads feed on desert. They may be used as the garden. Garter snakes, which are some extent, but probably not number. When we start exterminating kind of animal, we are not doing it to protect some delicate control that nature has designed between the animals and their environment.

This extermination of snakes might not increase the food population at all.

SHELL
PREMIUM GASOLINE

with TCP

Modern cars are beautiful performers. Yet, within less than 3500 miles of driving, even a new car can fall victim to engine deposits.

These deposits cause pre-firing of the gasoline and spark plug "miss"—denying you the power you paid for, the acceleration you occasionally need no matter how careful a driver you are.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP, the greatest gasoline development in 31 years, neutralizes engine deposits. TCP additive restores power to your car that pre-firing and spark plug "miss" take away.

Switch to Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP and get back lost power as you drive.

Verulam Council Defers Resolution

A meeting of the municipal council of the Township of Verulam was held in the municipal office on Friday, June 1st, 1954, at 7:30 o'clock p.m. with the Rev. Mr. Gumbie, presiding and Councillors Messrs. White, Ward, Sheriff and Kennedy in attendance.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted on motion of Mr. Kennedy, seconded by Mr. Sheriff.

Correspondence was read from the following: St. John's Ambulance and the Salvation Army (requesting council for their grants in assistance with their work); the Association of Mayors and Reeves advising of their meeting in Peterborough this week; the District High School Area Board advising of additions to the Lindsay and the Peniston Falls High Schools at an estimated cost of $370,000 and requesting that this council pass the necessary by-law; a blank copy of which was enclosed.

Mr. Brad, representing the High School Area Board, addressed council relative to the needs of the east board and explained the reasons for the need of extra accommodation naturally caused by a large increase in attendance.

This was left over for the present as council were of the opinion that the portion of cost to Verulam would be about $27,000 although there is no increase in the population of this township.

Mr. Earl Price again called to discuss his plan of a subdivision west of Greenbelt. He agreed to provide the necessary road through land he deduced 1250 to connect with the roadway along the lake into plan 210.

At this point news with the approval of the Council, it was moved by Mr. Kennedy, seconded by Mr. White, that the Clerk sign the necessary documents when the plan arrives.

By-Law No. 1253, a By-Law appointing an Assessor and setting the remuneration thereof, was duly passed.

On motion of Mr. White seconded by Mr. Sheriff, general accounts as presented were passed for payment.

On motion of Mr. Ward, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, read accounts amounting to $633.61 were passed for payment.

The Road Superintendent reported that he had contacted Mr. W. C. Reid, Road Superintendent of the Township of Peniston, and he had agreed to maintain the portion of the Peniston-Verulam Boundary Road from Highway No. 26 to the southern boundary.

Road inspection was set for Friday and Saturday, June 4th and 5th, 1954, at Nine O'clock a.m.

BABY'S CRY

IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

OUTGROWING between your baby's cry and your temper is a narrow margin. When your baby has a tantrum, remember that it is caused by the discomforts of the moment, not by anything you have done. Do not react in anger, but rather with patience. If you react in anger, you will only make the situation worse. Remember that your baby is not a naughty child, but a child who is growing and learning. Be patient and loving, and your baby will cry less often.

Young Man with a Plan

One of these days, Fred's going to take over the farm. Meanwhile, he's planning, studying and working hard... learning right on the job.

Already he's learned a lot about modern farm management, and how a chartered bank can play its part in making farm living more comfortable, more profitable. He has found, for example, how useful the bank can be a place to build up savings, to obtain credit, to seek financial advice and market information. He knows that the bank manager's door is open to everyone.

When you see a good-looking, well-run farm, chances are the farmer uses the services the chartered banks have built up for all Canadians.

THESE RECOMMEND THEMSELVES

The tulip beds in Lindsay's parks are now about to pass the peak of their breath-taking beauty, really need no one to speak for them—they speak for themselves. The effort which has gone into making the attractive flower beds possible is indicative of skill and initiative at this time. It is no easy task to achieve that which has been accomplished in Lindsay's parks, floral-wise, and their attractiveness warrants highest praise for the management and staff of the Lindsay Parks Board.

Anyone who has attempted to grow flowers, even on a very small scale, soon becomes conscious of the amount of labor required not only to plant them, but to ensure that the weeds don't outstrip the flowers. Of course, it may be argued that there is no need to do this job. But pay in a work such as this doesn't ensure good results... flower growing and landscaping generally, calls for more than a passing interest in the good earth and what it produces combined with care, planning and constant attention.

We have heard innumerable people comment on the beauty of our parks and we are sure everyone shares the pride which must be felt by the Parks Board in its achievement. These lovely flowers and other park improvements are for many, their closest contact with nature and by developing our natural assets we make available pleasures and benefits which cannot be measured by ordinary standards. It is a pleasure to be so much marvelled at the intricate pattern of the most humble flower or gained new perspective by observing some of our natural other creations?

ON THE OTHER HAND...

Lindsay's Council has acquired and is fitting up a parking lot on Cambridge St. for the benefit of the town's business section and to relieve parking problems in the downtown area. This is a highly commendable move. "Turbo Daily News" on June 12th, it would appear that the town has been extremely generous when its action is measured by that of other municipalities.

Read how "Turbo" and other maritime centres view this matter:

Parking Areas Are Not Town's Responsibility

"The Town Council is again studying the feasibility of removing the parking area from the waterfront to provide an extra parking area for shoppers in the central business district."

The request comes from a merchant in the area, whom we feel is expressing the feeling of many of the merchants in the area.

In this day and age when everyone looks to the government to provide everything, whether it be federal, provincial, or civil government, we can appreciate the thinking behind the request.

But fundamentally the principle of the town of providing parking areas for any one group of ratepayers is wrong. If the merchants in any particular area of town need parking areas to accommodate their customers, they should be prepared to provide them, perhaps co-operatively, at their own expense.

We feel that the town does well by the merchants in the central business section in providing a parking area on the school grounds. Nothing has been done in this regard for the merchants of the West end of town, and we know of one merchant in the West end who pays rent for a parking area for his customers.

This business of the need for parking areas has plagued the Council for the past 10 years or more, and it is our feeling that it is up to the town to provide parking areas for any one particular group, for that these merchants should provide their own parking areas for the purpose of the waterfront. The waterfront should be removed to accommodate the central section merchants than it is that Victoria Square should be eliminated to provide parking space set up shop in Victoria Park where there is ample parking space.

The Turbo Board of Trade at the moment has under study a town planning and zoning project which will be presented to the citizens of Turbo on Thursday, June 14, at an open meeting of the Board of Trade. Adequate parking areas have to be planned for in advance as the town grows and the number of motor vehicles increases. The trend in most up-to-date cities is to have parking areas on city streets.

If merchants of this town are in need of parking areas for their customers they should be looking around the neighborhood to see if land for this purpose can be purchased at a reasonable price in the near future. It could be done on a co-operative basis as is done in other cities, such as Halifax.

On the other hand, it must be proved that our merchants are an integral part of any municipality and they are faced with extraordinary problems these days... the supermarket, for example, with its ability to provide open parking facilities without paying anything, and attract business away from established areas. We would naturally encourage merchants to display initiative in providing parking accommodations for their customers. The most important need for a co-operative approach to the problem which has intensified with the increase in motor travel.

MOSQUITOES, INC.

Mosquitoes are cosmopolitans, authorities say, only a few islands, deserts and mountain tops being free from them. Peterborough being neither a desert mountain-top or island, has mosquitoes, even if it is not a cosmopolitan. The annual mosquito season in this country this week has been to invent new stories about the size and greed of this June's crop of the insect.

One man swears that the double-breasted fly-cup, which swarmed over the city on Tuesday was actually two mosquitoes from Rice Lake, in a leech-like. The fat pigon which sits on the crest of the old Post Office has been identified as one of the dangerous family Coleidae—that is, a mosquito. Some claim that the most vicious of the insects have arrived from the Pacific in the wake of H-bomb tests. This story has been so far-fetched, for mosquitoes almost never go higher than 15,000 feet.

It is no consolation to heavy-bitten Peterburians to be told by entomologists that the blood-sucking habit of mosquitoes is a natural and is a relatively unimportant factor in the lives of the majority of mosquitoes. The only palliative to this week's bites is that the—yes, animals—are so sluggish from over-feeding that they are easier to hit with the swat of a handkerchief. "The manufacturer who can devise mosquito-proof nylon stockings will be more blessed by the ladies than the inventor of the permanent wave. The biologist who sees this weekend on fair laws are not perfect in the nylon but mosquito punctures, smeared with iodine to remove the itch."

Peterborough Examiner.

A MANUFACTURER SOUNDS A WARNING

"I do not want to enter into the inevitable debate about which came first, the wage rise or the price rise; nor do I want to expound on the truism that wage rises are only justified by productivity improvement. But I do want to say quite flatly that national acceptance of the theory that annual wage boosts are vital to the expansion of purchasing power and the maintenance of a deep lasting rate each year for the rest of time is exactly the same as national acceptance of a permanent economy of creeping inflation."

In sounding this warning in the course of his presidential address to the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Toronto during the past week, T. A. Rice, retiring president pointed out that the common for unionized workers would be to stick with the theory of the need for the annual wage boost, "even though all the evidence of history substantiates the fact that, wherever and whenever money wages have outstripped productivity, the inevitable result has been enfeeblement of the currency."

Canada, the CMA president stated would be doubly affected by an accumulation of the inflationary trend. Not only so pointed out, would it multiply wage gains but it could threaten even further the ability of Canadian manufacturers to compete in both the domestic and foreign markets.

The speaker stressed the fact that he had no desire to let the entire blame for the possibility of further inflation on the doorstep of organized labour. Both management and government, he pointed out, have in some ways had their share in helping inflation along, and the consumer has some responsibility in the matter. The public, he said, must "wake up to the fact that it is their pocket book which will pay the price of inflation becomes the order of each and every day."

It is good that warnings such as these should be sounded at this time. We in Canada have come to take for granted the material standard of our economy that we have enjoyed during past few years. Weaknesses in the economy have been widely ignored, despite the fact that they have been drawn to our attention time after time by those who are in a position to read the signs. Not the least of these weaknesses is the vulnerability of our world trade position; and it is this weak spot that could be our undoing should inflation be permitted to get the upper hand.

—The Financial Times.

COUNCILS NEED EARLY NOTICE

Woodstock's City Council has adopted a resolution which municipalities throughout the province will no doubt endorse.

Pointing out that it is necessary for the Provincial Government to amend statutes from time to time and that municipalities are affected, financial and otherwise, by changes involving their powers and authority, Woodstock's Council declares:

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Provincial Government be respectfully requested that such information, so far as practicable, be submitted to the municipalities when legislation is being proposed which directly affects municipalities."

It is a sensible request where it is practicable. Changes in the system of grants obviously affect municipal budgets; amendments to legislation may increase or decrease a municipality's responsibilities; and it is important that municipalities should be informed of such changes as soon as possible.

It may also be desirable for the Government to give advance information, but in such cases it would be of substantial assistance to municipal administration if the Government were to enact legislation affecting municipalities at the earliest opportunity to permit them to take necessary action in good time.

THE MEN FROM MARS ARE BACK!

The flying saucers are back, and this time it's a flying cigar giving off silver rays. The report comes from Argentina where "a government employee and policeman have seen a gigantic cigar-shaped object moving through the air" (referred to as "cigar"). The cigar, they estimated, was a thousand feet long.

This could be the beginning of what are called the dog days of Summer when the most astonishing things happen and someone goes into the newspaper to read that turning up at its own front door after two years and 70 miles, the champion watermelon eater of Georgia, challenging the watermelon-eating world, the chap who takes up residence in a tree and says he won't come down until Kefauver is free, the selection of Chabaz County and Archibute Princess, the fellow who is talking to the air and is giving him jet action an air—like the list is endless.

Argentina gives the dog days an auspicious start by having the flying saucer land on the planet Venus, carries the little men from Mars to Mercury on an exploratory tour of our aerial regions. The saucers or other years have grown up.

Fall Rally Plans Discussed At WMS
 Little Britain (P.M.)—The June meeting of the Little Britain United Church W.M.S. was held in the Sunday School Room of the church with a good attendance of members. The vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Gurnea, presided and opened the meeting by contributing a poem, after which a hymn was sung, followed by prayer for the missionary Miss Turberville. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Evelyn Smart.

 It was carried that a committee be appointed to work with the Evening Auxiliary in regard to making arrangements for the Fall Rally. Mrs. Gordon Avery presented a Life Membership to Mrs. Crowder.
 The worship service was then taken over by the group in charge. Recreations were read by Mrs. George Avery; after which Miss Zella Wadsworth read an article "Thou Art Precious" which was followed by prayer by Mrs. John Connor. Mrs. Wm. Hill contributed two poems on friendship, followed by Mrs. Earl Chown's singing a much-appreciated solo. SHELL
with TCP
 Modern cars are beautiful performers. Yet, within less than 3500 miles of driving, even a new car can fall victim to engine deposits.
 These deposits cause pre-firing of the gasoline and spark plug "miss"—denying you the power you paid for, the acceleration you occasionally need to matter how careful a driver you are.
 Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP, the greatest gasoline development in 51 years, neutralizes engine deposits. TCP additive restores power to your car that pre-firing and spark plug "miss" take away.
 Switch to Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP and get back lost power as you drive.
